Dear Student,

At Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University we pride ourselves on providing an engaging and exceptional college experience, which demands a safe and healthy student environment. To help foster that environment, we are taking a proactive stance against sexual assault and interpersonal violence. Nationwide, the statistics on sexual assault and interpersonal violence on college campuses are disturbing: One out of every five women attending college in this country will experience some kind of attempted or completed sexual assault, 4% of men will experience unwanted sex, and 28% of college men and 43% of college women report experiencing violence and abusive behaviors from someone they date.

As part of the mission of the Dean of Students Office and the University, your safety is our priority. Therefore, we are requiring that you view the Not Anymore online education program regarding the prevention of interpersonal violence, campus policies and where to find relevant resources. This program is composed of a pre-test, video modules and a post test. While watching the various video modules, information about university policies, procedures and resources will be shown and remain available to you. Additionally, we’ve included demonstrations to enhance your understanding of expected behavior. While we may never fully eliminate such violence, we are committed to making our campus one of the safest in the nation.

As a graduate student or Veteran, you may not be a “traditional age” student and you may believe these issues are not as relevant to you. However, you may be in positions of supervision, or that of a mentor and you find that other students will seek you out for guidance. This module will not only educate you, it will help you to understand what kinds of resources are available for all of our students and provide you with critical policy information. This is one of several initiatives the Dean of Students Office has implemented to put Students First – ALL students.

Program Instructions
The online program will be available for your taking as of August 7, 2014. You are required to complete the programs by September 15, 2014. You are required to earn at least an 80% on the program post-test to ensure you have the information you need on these subjects. You will be prompted to retake the post-test until you achieve this score. The program also will allow you to review the program videos before you retake the post-test. It is our hope that you will understand the value of this education and consider having conversations with your family and friends prior to the start of classes.
