

Proof of Funds Facts

The estimated costs are based on the cost of attendance for an academic year (August-May), unless otherwise listed, and are intended for planning purposes only. Official bills for tuition and fees will be presented after registration. Some courses may require additional fees. The University reserves the right to change any of the below estimates without prior notification.

Please note these fees do not include health insurance. The estimated annual cost for ERAU provided health insurance is approximately $1,487, but the actual amount varies year to year and will be automatically charged to your student account. If you have insurance that meets the university's standards, you may request a waiver through your student portal after admission.

NOTE: The University requires financial documentation certifying the validity of resources available to meet the following criteria:

- All documentation must be dated within six months of the start date of the semester for which the student is applying. The only exception will be tax returns, which must be from the previous year, in which the student is applying.
- Students may combine sources and/or have more than one sponsor.
- All documentation must be provided showing in the U.S. dollar amount or conversion.
- Students must show proof of financial ability to meet the financial obligation of one academic year (amount shown below).
- Typically, funds are proven through bank statements or letters from a financial institution(s).
